CARE & MAINTENANCE TIPS

SENTIO GENERAL CARE:

Caring for your Sentio Renewable Surface is easy. In most cases, only routine cleaning is required. And if life leaves a mark, it can be repolished to look brand new again.

Day-to-day food spills

For everyday cleaning and general food stain removal, use warm soapy water. Gently wipe the surface to remove any spills or residue, then rinse and dry with a clean microfibre cloth.

Water marks

Wipe your surface with a damp sponge and dry with a clean microfibre cloth. Hard water leaves visible water marks on Sentio, just as on glassware, which is why it should be wiped dry with a soft cloth.

Stubborn Stains

For more stubborn stains a more thorough clean and refresh can be completed using a multi-purpose citrus cleaner. Always finish by wiping your surface with a damp sponge and dry with a clean microfibre cloth.

SENTIO PREVENTION CARE:

Treat your Sentio Renewable Surface surface as you would a quality timber benchtop. As with most materials, dark or higher pigmented colours of Sentio are more sensitive and tend to show wear and tear more easily. Light scratching is considered normal wear and tear. Please carefully read the tips for preventing cuts and scratches.

Use a chopping board

While Sentio can be renewed, using a timber chopping board protects your benchtop from cuts and scratches.

Treat like timber

Always lift items (e.g. oven trays, cookware, etc.) instead of sliding them across the surface to prevent scuffs and scratches.

Protect from heat

Always place hot cookware or appliances on trivets or heat pads to protect your surface.

SENTIO PROFESSIONAL CARE:

With Sentio, you can have complete confidence that your benchtop surface will stand the test of time. Should it become accidentally damaged or show signs of wear from everyday use, a professional refinisher can expertly restore it to its original condition—just like the day it was installed. This service allows you to completely renew your benchtop, maintaining its elegant appearance and protecting the long-term value of your property.
